Better Blooming Bulbs

HEBERLING'S GLADIOLUS

Corn Belt Grown

J. H. HEBERLING — EASTON, ILLINOIS

September, 1932

PRICE LIST

Dear Friends:

A lot of thanks to my good and reliable customers who helped me through the year with their good orders. Your loyal support has enabled me to have another fine crop almost matured, and this is what I want to talk to you about.

This crop is grown on that wonderful rich, black, sandy, silt, loam soil peculiar to this part of Central Illinois. It is naturally a rich soil, well drained, always soft, and loamy, and never getting hard and crusty or baked. It produces the finest, cleanest, and brightest of bulbs. Our crop is 100% clean and THRIP FREE and disease free. I'm glad to report that we have no thrips in our garden and that our stock is guaranteed first class in every respect. All stock is grown from young bulbs making high-crowned, plump, vigorous and clean young bulbs. All stock is Semesen treated.

This season I have discontinued a number of the more common sorts because they were becoming quite common and better ones now take their places. My list has been trimmed down so that it contains only the most outstanding of the best varieties, and I have added the really outstanding new varieties, as you will note.

I have reduced the prices so that you will find the new varieties that you have been wanting at a figure at which you can afford to buy them. I am able to do this only because of our exceptionally favorable soil and climate.

Heberling's Gladiolus are sold the World over and give Universal satisfaction. Hundreds of testimonials verify this statement.

Many of you are regular customers, many others will send me their first order this fall, and others have received my price list for several years and have not ordered. To the latter I wish to say that you owe it to yourself and you owe it to me to send me a trial order. Find out for yourself why my customers come back year after year; why my customers become friends. There must be a reason. Once a customer of J. H. always a customer.

than verified my high opinion of it. Tall, straight spike with beautifully wide open, well-shaped florets, 5 to 6 inches across, well spaced and of excellent placement and I believe the greatest light pink ever introduced. Florets have excellent substance. It is my opinion that the demand will much exceed the supply for many years. It appears to do well in all climates.

Wasaga (Palmer) As I write this description I have just cut the first bloom of this variety. The spike in a vase on the library table is forty inches long and fifteen inches were left with eight leaves to make the bulb and bulblets. The first flower is five inches across with four others open and flowerhead is twenty-three inches long. The flowers are well placed and beautifully ruffled. The color is a glowing iridescent buff, distinctively beautiful. The plant and foliage are healthy and vigorous. Bulblets germinate well. Wasaga is one Glad out of thousands.
